Great white smashes seal!

But it's only a pretend seal. Silly great white!

he great white shark is a magnificent thing. Four metres of swimming stomach with a tail at one end and nature's chainsaw at the other, it's imperious, dangerous and dumber than a certain former US President.

That's the finding of shark expert Michael Rutzen, who scored these shots of breaching great whites, clearing the sea by four metres, to take a foam and fibreglass dummy seal tied to his boat. The big berks.

And in a wonderfully inclusive detail, all this took place in False Bay, South Africa!

- Great whites can swim at speeds of up to 24 kilometres per hour.
- They can detect a single drop of blood in 100 litres of water and can sense trace amounts up to five kilometres away.
- A great white has rows of teeth behind the main ones that move forward conveyor belt-style to replace broken ones. A typical great white can get through 3,000 teeth in a lifetime.
- Scientists estimate a 6m long great white would have a bite force of over 4,000 lb/ft.
- Shark attacks most often occur in the morning, within two hours after sunrise, when visibility is poor.

 Every so often the British car industry throws up a shock, and this could be the biggest since McLaren's F1 supercar back in 1992.

 The Jaguar C-X75 – an allelectric, four-wheel drive, 780bhp concept – was shown at last year's Paris Motor Show but Jaguar has confirmed it is building this car, albeit with a few tweaks.

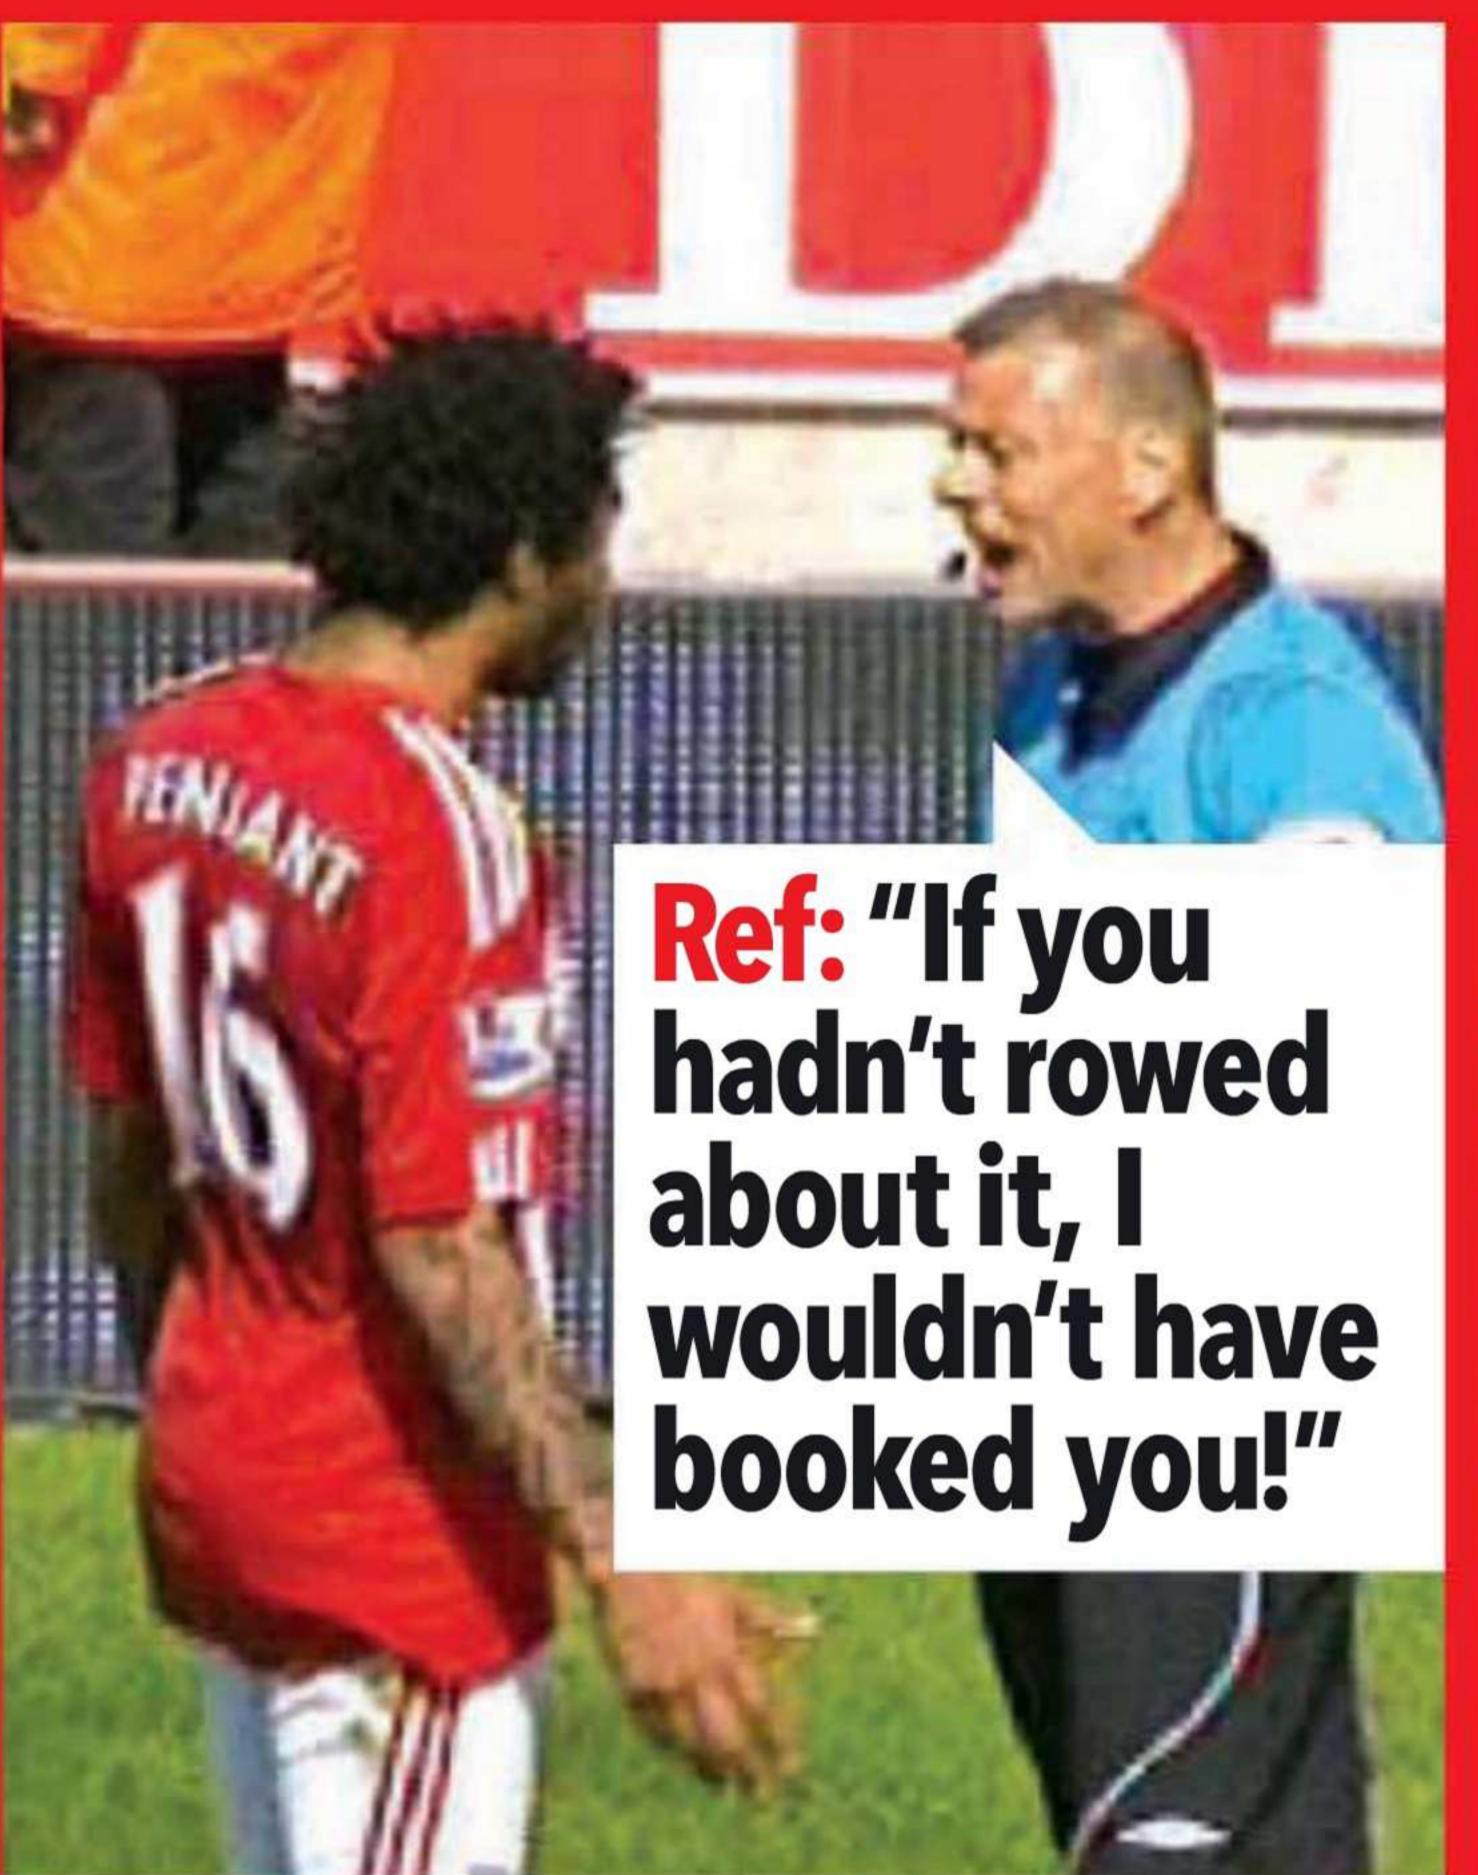

- The concept featured four 195bhp electric motors to carry the bonded aluminium and carbon-fibre car to a top speed of 205mph and provide 1,180lb-ft of torque. Figures of 0-186mph in 15.7 seconds were mooted.
- The two-seater C-X75 charged its 230kg lithium-ion battery pack with a pair of gas turbines spinning at over 80,000rpm.
 These run fist-sized generators and are designed to work on biofuel, diesel or LPG.
- Jaguar has said there'll be a limited-edition of 250 cars, with fewer than 50 using the gas turbine technology. So what about the other 200? That's where the Williams F1 team comes in.

- Keen to make sure this stays a truly British car, Jaguar has enrolled Williams F1 to help build parts including the C-X75's carbon-fibre tub.
- Keeping things on an F1 theme, with all cars on the grid using tuned fourcylinder, 1.6-litre engines by 2013, Jaguar intends to fit a Cosworth engine that should kick out 500bhp!
- With electric motors still driving all four wheels, the Cosworth 1.6 (made in Northamptonshire) will most likely assist the power when required. In other words, you're staring at a 1,000bhp plug-in hybrid hypercar made entirely in the Midlands!
- Running purely on electric power will be possible in urban places but when you drop the hammer, the C-X75 will reach 0-62mph in 3.4 seconds, 100mph in 5.5 seconds and from standstill to 186mph in a Veyronslapping 15.7 seconds.
- So, a hybrid British brute that's faster than a Veyron. Yours for a mere £700k. Pick your jaw up off the floor, Bugatti!

Sulphuric acid mix-up causes mitt to melt!

sing sulphuric acid to unblock a sink is a bit like shaving with a sandblaster. And Danny Havens, a cleaning manager from London, could only look on in horror as said acid dissolved his left hand.

"At one of my sites – a small school – the caretaker told me a sink was blocked," Danny, 27, recalls. "I tried to talk to the cleaner but he didn't speak English. The sink didn't look too bad, so I poured in some Mr Muscle. Nothing! So I started to unscrew the U-bend but it exploded like a water balloon! I knew something was wrong when I felt my skin melting!

"The cleaner had poured sulphuric acid in there! I rinsed my hand but by this point the acid had melted through my watch and shirt! It was like the blood from Aliens melting through the floor! Bits of skin started falling off! Never before have I felt so much pain but I'll live to unblock drains again!"

Man vs Machine!

Meet the MotoGP champ and his bonkers bike!

THE MAN: JORGE LORENZO

- World MotoGP champ Jorge Lorenzo lifted the 2010 title with a record points total – and he's only just turned 24!
- Jorge made his championship debut aged just 15! Blimey!
- Jorge crashed in practice in China in 2008, suffering a chipped bone and snapped ligament, but still finished the race in fourth place!
- He's known for his outrageous winning celebrations such as jumping in a pond and Nintendo's Mario Brothers appearing trackside!

- Jorge rides the YZR-M1, an 800cc bike developed by the Yamaha Motor Company.
- Yamaha's first bike, built in 1954, was a 125cc singlecylinder two-stroke – a long way from the YZR-M1 and its liquid-cooled, in-line, fourcylinder, four-stroke engine!
- It weighs just 148kg!
- It puts out 220bhp and has a top speed of around 220mph!
- Stopping this awesome power are carbon and stainless steel brake discs!

NUTS INTERVIEW

JATHAN 155 RSS

The controversial star chats exclusively to Nuts about comics and his new telly show!

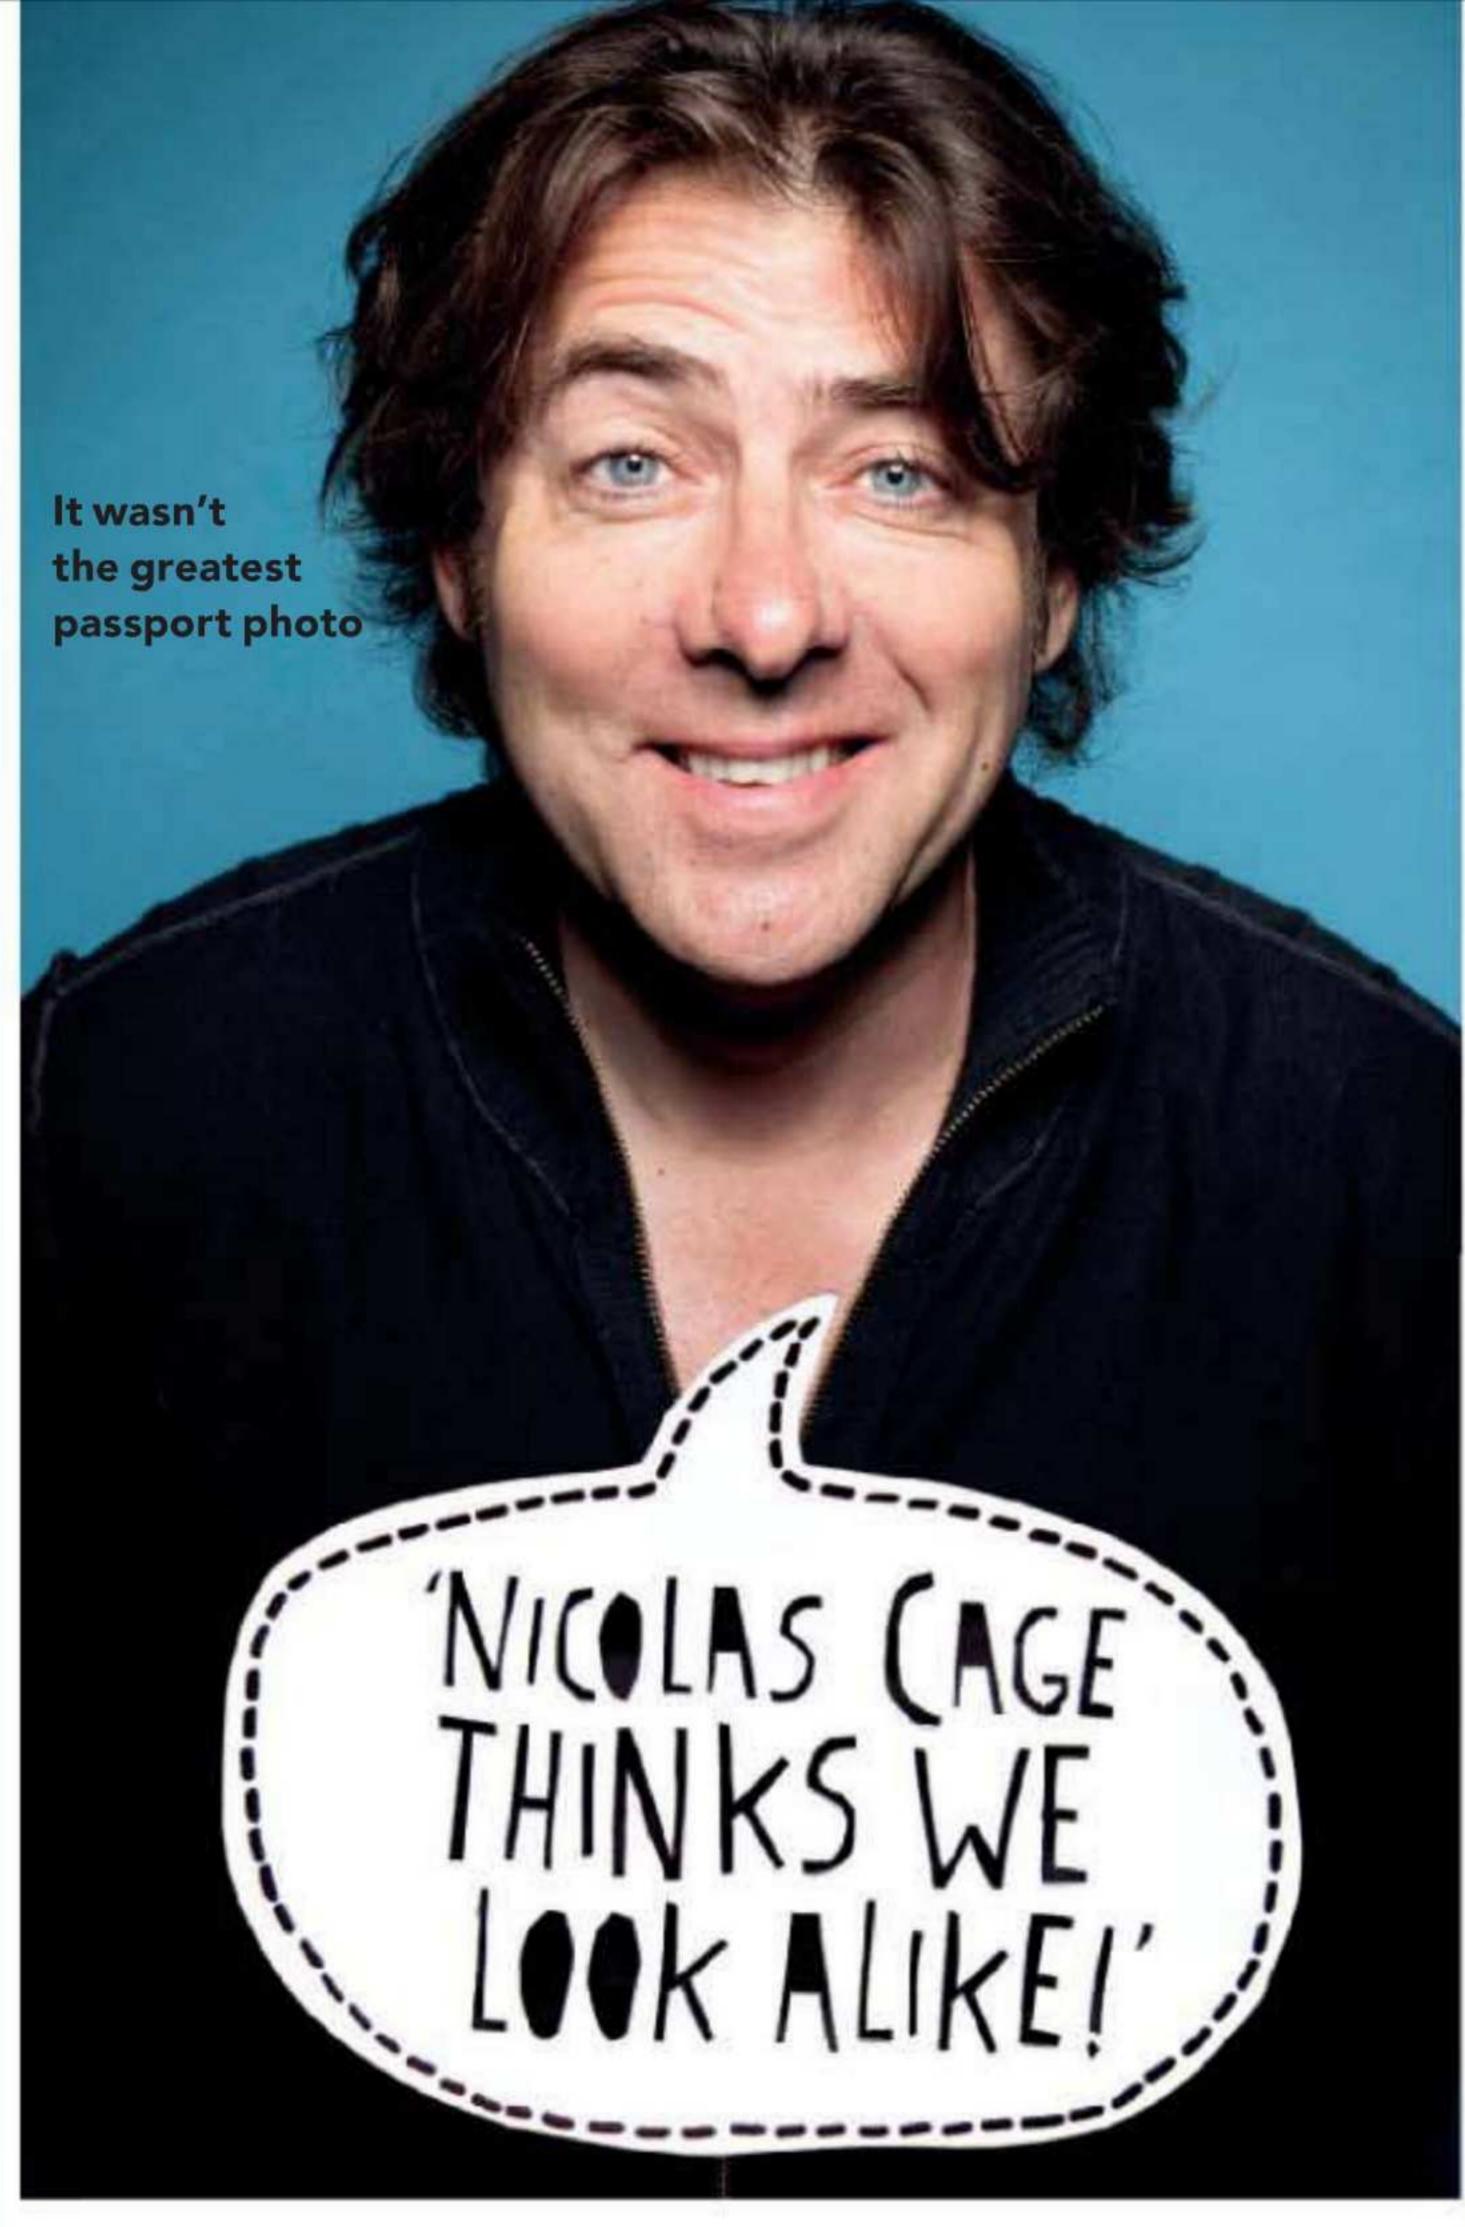

OK, so if they make a film of your life, who would you like to play you? Nicolas Cage thinks we look alike sometimes. I find that mildly flattering because he's lost weight and, sometimes, I find it slightly annoying because he looks terrible. It depends where we both are on weight and with hair! I'll probably find, however, it's someone like Bradley Walsh or Shane Richie!

Have you got any more TV shows lined up? Yes. I'm doing a chat show for ITV1 this autumn. It's going to go out in prime time and it'll essentially be me interviewing celebrities again but there'll be changes to the look and feel of the show. You're now writing superhero comics. Who's the worst superhero you've ever seen and, if you could, how would you kill him off? I actually like bad superheroes! Back in the '60s and '70s, there was one called Prez. He was a teenage president. And there was another one called Brother Power The Geek. He was a weird hippy character who came to us struck by lightning. Even though they were bad, I liked them because they were weird. I hate killing them off because you know they're going to bring them back. Even with the death of Spider-Man, you going to kill him off.

What's your most valuable comic? I've got a huge collection that covers most of the back know they're not wall in my office. It depends on the condition of a comic as to what value it is but I've got a Fantastic Four issue number one that's worth about $30,000 (£18,000). I've also got a Captain America number one, and a Batman, too.

If you could have mutant superhero skills, what animal would you be morphed with?
I really like the idea of being a chameleon. That'd be fun. Or maybe a gecko so I could stick to ceilings. I like monkeys, too, and I wouldn't mind being hairy. I've always wanted to have a tail.

What would you rather have the very first Wii 2 or the first ever Spider-Man comic? Well, I've already got the first Spider-Man comic, so make that the Wii 2, thank you very much! The Daily Mail seem to really hate you. Would you like to take this opportunity to say something nice about them? It's always very difficult to say anything nice because I feel embarrassed about them. I don't understand why anyone could take them seriously. Your missus, Jane Goldman, is also insanely talented as a screenwriter (she wrote Kick Ass). Do you ever get jealous? Not at all. I'm incredibly proud of her. She's gone from a novice to someone who now has to turn down about ten films a month! What she does isn't easy at all, and she's super-talented, too. You're very popular on Twitter. What's the weirdest message you've received? I do enjoy Twitter because it's nice to have an outlet where you can talk to people and let them know you're not completely mad! I have loads of weird messages and some rude ones, too. I've had a few propositions, which is remarkable, given my age. It could be a joke or it could be a newspaper trying to catch you out! As we know, people have been caught out doing things online they shouldn't have over the past few years.

What advice would you give the young Jonathan Ross if you met him now? I don't know! A young version of me would have been amazed and delighted that I'm still working in TV. When I first started out, I wasn't terribly good at it and it's more luck than judgement that I've managed to stay in this particular line of work. Would you ever be in one of your mate Ricky Gervais' movies? Yes, if he asked me to, but to be honest I'd rather be in a movie by my wife! Do you still knock about with Russell Brand now he's gone all big-time? Yes, and I'm hoping to see him over the summer. We still speak quite often. I've actually written three new comics and I've put him on the very last page of one of them. He's a villainous character who turns up on the last page! You went on Celebrity Apprentice once. Do you think you could do Lord Sugar's job? I doubt it very much. What I find fascinating about Lord Sugar is that he loves business, finding a product and making a deal. I just glaze over when buying things. I'm more of a consumer who goes, "Wow look at that new iPod!" I don't have the brain for that kind of thing. I'm hoping to have a tennis game with him over the summer, so watch this space! And finally, have you had any offers to do American talk shows like Piers Morgan? I get offers from the US quite

AMERICA'S SECRET

Across the US, paramilitary groups plan to take over colour-coded dot on your mailbox means that a mercenary is going to shoot you. Barack Obama's going to confiscate all of America's guns. The FBI are building concentration camps for antigovernment dissidents. And America can only survive if it's "purged of weaklings".

If all of the above sounds like the rantings of madmen, well, that's not too far from the truth. Unfortunately, the people in question are committed, organised and have a lot of weaponry at their disposal. Welcome to the crazy world of America's new militias.

FREEDOM FIGHTERS

Incensed over immigration, economic struggles and the thought of a black President, these paramilitaries urge "patriots" to ready themselves to fight for their freedom.

Mostly right-wing Christian "gun nuts", the militias' anger is fuelled by bizarre beliefs. For example, one group believes that the Federal Government is building concentration camps on military bases, to detain anti-government dissidents after they've used foreign troops to enforce a new world order that would merge the US, Canada and Mexico.

One militiaman, former Arizona cop Jack McLamb, claims the government has placed coloured dots on people's mailboxes so Chinese mercenaries will know what to do with those who live at each address. A blue dot means you'll be taken to a concentration camp. Get a red dot, though, and you'll be shot in the head, at once.

BUTCHERED

This may make the militias sound more comical than dangerous, but the Oklahoma City bombing of 1995, which killed 168 people, and the siege at Waco, Texas, in 1993, in which 76 died, were both the acts of "patriot" groups.

In the past year alone, militia members have been convicted of planning to destroy the 108-storey Sears Tower in Chicago, mounting at least five assassination attempts against President Obama, murdering six police officers, plotting a nationwide bombing spree against Federal offices and readying huge, illegal arsenals to use against the authorities.

RELIGIOUS ARMY

On one occasion, the FBI raided perhaps the scariest militia group of them all, the Midwest's Hutaree group, who planned to murder police officers during traffic stops, and then bomb their funeral motorcades for good measure.

"They believed this series of attacks would set off a larger uprising," said Attorney General Eric Holder. "They were conspiring to levy war against the United States."

The Hutaree call themselves "Christian warriors" and say they're preparing for the Antichrist. "We will one day see the enemy and meet him on the battlefield as God wills it," says their website, "and anyone who does not share in the Hutaree's beliefs."

It's thought there are militia groups in 40 of the 50 states. Members train by practising guerrilla-style hit-and-run tactics, simulating attacks on Federal buildings, fuel dumps, airports and bridges, They recruit at picnics and gun shows and hold machine-gun firings and weapons classes in the deep woods where rookies learn to shoot, survive sieges and tend to the wounded.

"They've prepared stashes of the 'Four Bs' – Bibles, bullets, beans and bandages - and they train in military tactics and weapons handling," an intel expert told Nuts. "We've uncovered files on law officers and their families, on judges, prosecutors and lawmakers. Their training manuals are also explicit: 'Human targets will be engaged and, when it's beneficial to the cause, eliminate those who oppose us."

DEADLY THREAT

Despite all this, there's a veneer of ineptitude and buffoonery that the militias just can't seem to shake off. Recently, the son of a Californian day-care centre owner, Ben Kuzelka, turned up at his local hospital missing three fingers, saying he'd accidently shot himself. Their suspicions aroused, police raided his home and found a marijuana-growing operation, Nazi paraphernalia and the bomb-making equipment that had caused Kuzelka's wounds.

Hutaree group members

Not that the US authorities can afford to indulge the militia's eccentricities. "There's a lot of loony rhetoric," said an ATF (Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms) agent, "but they're heavily armed, and there's a tragedy waiting in any confrontation with them."■

Recruits train by practising guerrilla-style tactics

i Sarah! Welcome to your first proper Nuts shoot! Thanks! I've come all the way from South Wales, so it was an early start for me. Up at 5am! What was it like getting called up for this shoot? It was better than getting called up to the national team! I was a Nuts' Next Top Model, which I really loved, but I didn't expect anything more to come of it. I hoped it would, but I didn't expect it. And now you're half-naked with the likes of Peta and Sophie! It's such a laugh. They couldn't believe the size of my boobs! As soon as they saw them, they both started taking pictures and putting them on Twitter! What Welsh-ness will you be bringing to the table? A bit of cheekiness maybe. I don't think you've got many other Welsh models, so I'm proud to be flying the flag for Britain's boobs!

Hopefully, I'll get a call back and come and do it again. Have you been having fun on the shoot? Yeah. Melissa's really cute and Sophie and Peta just make me laugh. It's everything I hoped for. I'm most looking forward to seeing Sophie's boobs up close. I haven't had my picture with her yet. Have you ever taken a rude picture of yourself on a mobile phone? Yes, I have. As far as I'm aware, they've never gone to the wrong person. Let's hope that doesn't happen! Thanks, Sarah! Well, we've beaten around the bush for long enough. Your boobs are massive! They are, aren't they? The photographer said that they're the biggest boobs that he'd ever shot. I found that hard to believe because he must have seen a lot, but they're pretty big. When I go out, people think I'm wearing an inflatable bra!

The Nuts Alter Football Awar

Gongs for the chaps who've made this a right bonkers season!

s we approach the final weekend of the season, I thought it was only fair to pay tribute to the man whose team has once again dominated the Premier League – Sir Alex Ferguson. The man's an absolute genius and bearing in mind the kind of criticism that his United side have attracted, this league title could well rank alongside his greatest achievements.

can't see there being another to match him"

Many people said his players were too old, that he'd not spent enough money over the past couple of years and, memorably, that his side no longer had the "glamour" of United teams gone by. But Sir Alex never lost faith in his ability to mould another team with the same hunger that burns inside him even as he approaches his 70th birthday.

Every step of this season has seen evidence of his supreme managerial skills, from convincing Wayne Rooney that his future lay at Old Trafford after his star striker handed in a transfer request, to dropping Dimitar Berbatov in favour of Javier Hernandez, despite the Bulgarian sitting at the top of the goal-scoring charts. He just knew that Rooney and Hernandez would work better. That just goes to show there's nothing Ferguson won't do to ensure his United team succeed.

The man runs every single aspect of the club from top to bottom, and he retains the ability to strike fear and respect into any player he signs. The players will work with coaches all week but when the big man arrives, they know it's time to get down to business, he demands such high levels from everyone. And if you don't match up to them, then you're very rapidly out of the door.

As Sir Alex stands on the brink of a potential League and Champions League double, you have to wonder how much longer he can go on for. But when you witness the way he celebrated United's win at home against Chelsea, you began to doubt if he'll ever retire! Everyone around him believes he'll continue to manage well beyond the next year or so, and with the success he's having, who can blame him? He's the best manager of my lifetime, and I can't see there ever being another to match him.

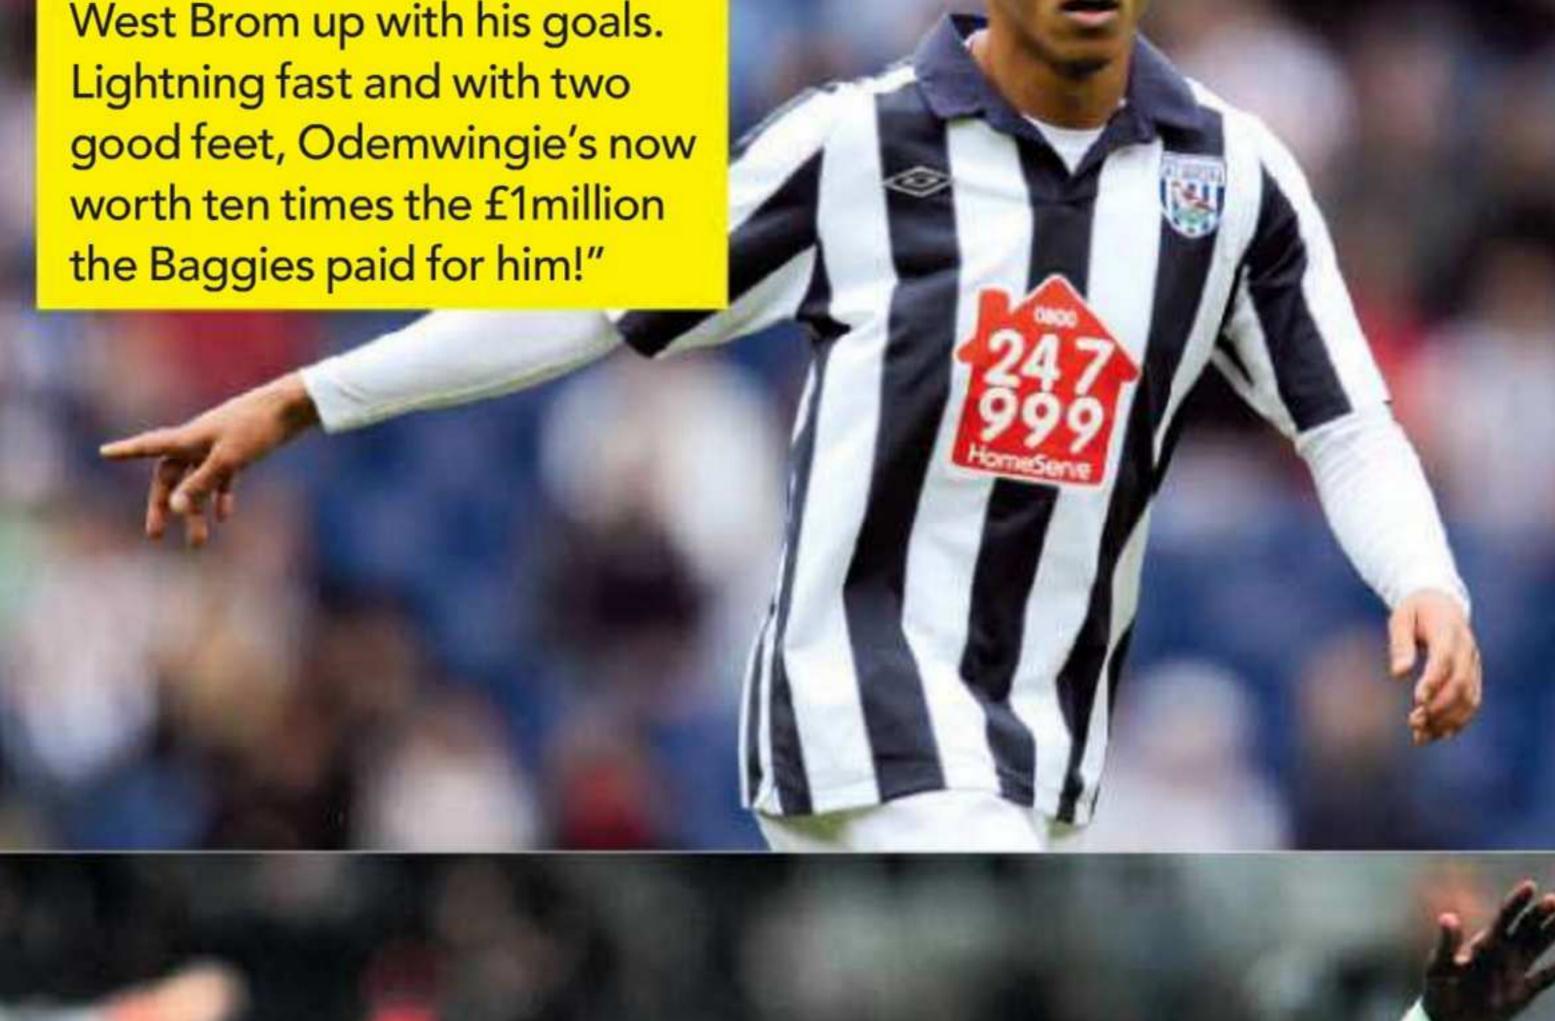

lamws top six finds of the season.

The players at the top of their game!

PETER ODEMWINGIE West Brom "Almost single-handedly kept West Brom up with his goals. Lightning fast and with two

CHEIK TIOTE Newcastle United "A bit of an unknown quantity when he signed, Tiote's been a lynchpin for the Toon. He looks like a player they could form a team round if they invest like they need to in the summer!"

 LUIS SUAREZ Liverpool "Suarez has adapted to the English game immediately, has wonderful skill on the ball and has been the reason behind Liverpool's revival. Perfect for King Kenny to mould, he's going to be a major star!"

Stoke City

"Seemingly on the football rubbish tip when Tony Pulis signed him, Pennant has paid his manager back with brilliant displays on the wing and some vitally important goals!"

i James! You're fighting

Yeah, we've got history. We used to train at the same gym. We were never friends, though. We might say hello but that was it. He was living in my shadow even back then. He's always been bitter and jealous of me.

Are you out for revenge in this fight? Yeah, a little bit. He's smug and he's trying to come across as someone he's not. He was wearing that silly tie

at the press conference.
I don't know who's dressing him –
probably Adam Booth (Groves' trainer) and David Haye!

Do you have pictures of Groves up in your house so you hate the sight of him even more? No but that's a great idea! I'll do that! Someone sent me a funny picture of him the other day – maybe I'll put that up in the gym so I remind myself just how ugly he is!

Crikey! What's the worst bit about training? Probably the track work – it's pretty intense.

I do ten 75-second 400m, with only a minute's rest in between.

If I'm doing recovery running,
I have to get up at 5.30am! I don't look forward to that!

You know that bit in Rocky where he eats raw eggs first thing in the morning? Have you ever done anything like that? I've never done that. I've never had to chase any chickens, either! What music do you train to and listen to before a fight? A wide range of stuff. I put on funky house or Lil Wayne, or Drake or some garage. But then I listen to Michael Bublé as well! I like some lively music on when I'm warming up in the dressing room, though. I don't like it to be too serious before the fight

"Look! Gold! Same as yours"

so I have my friends and family around me with the music on.

Who would you like to get in the ring who isn't a boxer? No one really annoys me that much. I like people like Gordon Ramsay and Simon Cowell because they're funny and raw. I like that in people. But dislike? There aren't many people.

What's the best thing about being a boxer? Fight nights, the buzz of winning. I love all of it!

You're an Olympic champion. Have you ever thought about cashing in your gold? Ha-ha! No! But the British title belt is gold-plated and that's worth about ten grand I think! Do you get a replica belt to keep in case you lose it to someone? You've got to defend the British title three times, then you get to keep it outright. It's yours. With world titles, they give you a replica one to keep. Can you tell us a strange fact about yourself? My front tooth's fake! [Takes his tooth out.] I've got to take it out before a fight. Once I forgot it was out and I took my gumshield out after winning a fight – I had this massive smile on my face with this big gap in my teeth!

How come you've got a fake tooth? I was working as a plumber

when I left school and my boss' friend was a kick-boxer. He was trying to wind me up, saying kick-boxing is better than boxing, so we decided to have a sparring session. I was about to throw an uppercut, so when I ducked my head, he popped me in the mouth with his foot!

Crikey! So an old bloke knocked your tooth out? Yeah, basically!

The war of words!

These two don't get on!

DeGale on Groves

- He's lived in my shadow half his life and he's always been the ugly kid behind James DeGale."
- He's an ugly kid and he's got no chin."
- It's game over, ugly boy. You're done. Finished, finito...
 You're going to be having a kip on the floor or just battered!"

Groves on DeGale

- Yeah, I've cried a few times. Cried with laughter. Especially last week after his post-fight interview."
- He's got a stupid long-headed face."
- When I knock him out, he's going to look like a horse falling over."

Nuts GAMBLING MASTERCLASS!

We poured this advice into a Nuts man's head and sent him online to try to win!

Deal Or No Deal top tips!

a game enjoyed just by those who believe in a "system", right?
Well, the TV game show might be, but the multi-line slot isn't!

For as little as 5p a go, you can win big – and if you're willing to play on all lines, you could win a progressive jackpot. In fact, one winner walked off with £1.96m!

You can win big money in the comfort of your own home!

HOW TO PLAY

- The idea is to get winning symbol combinations from spinning the reels, with the ultimate aim being to win the progressive jackpot.
- You can gamble up to 20p on each of the 20 pay lines. That's 20 chances to win on each play!
- The progressive jackpot can only be won on the Deal Or No Deal bonus game, but there are also two other fun bonus games called Banker's Offer and Mystery Box Bonus, where you can win cash.

THE NUMBER LINES

Click the number beside the reels, or the Bet One or Bet Max button. Choose Bet Max for the bonus game where you play for the biggest jackpots!

BONUS GAME

If you're betting on all 20 pay lines and you get three Deal Or No Deal bonus symbols on any pay line, the bonus game begins. This is much like the Deal Or No Deal TV show, only the big progressive jackpot is at stake here. Good luck!

Plus! Win up to £10,000*!

FOOTBALLERS' CARS! - It's what your turnstile money pays for!

Robbie Savage's Bentley Coupé!

Sav gets himself a natty motor!

ou either love or hate Robbie Savage. After all, this is the man who has big girly blonde hair and an Armani tattoo on his arm. Still, he's got the kind of motor we'd give our right arm for (except if we did, we couldn't drive it). Sav's Bentley Brooklands Coupé is worth a cool £250,000, and it's fair to say we're just a bit jealous. Just think how many hair products he could buy with that kind of dough!

The stats!

- 0-60mph: 5.0 seconds
- Top speed: 184mph
- Max power: 530bhp
- 6.75-litre V8 engine
- Personalised tread plates, cameras, an amazing music system and wheels that always show the Bentley symbol the right way up, even at high speeds!

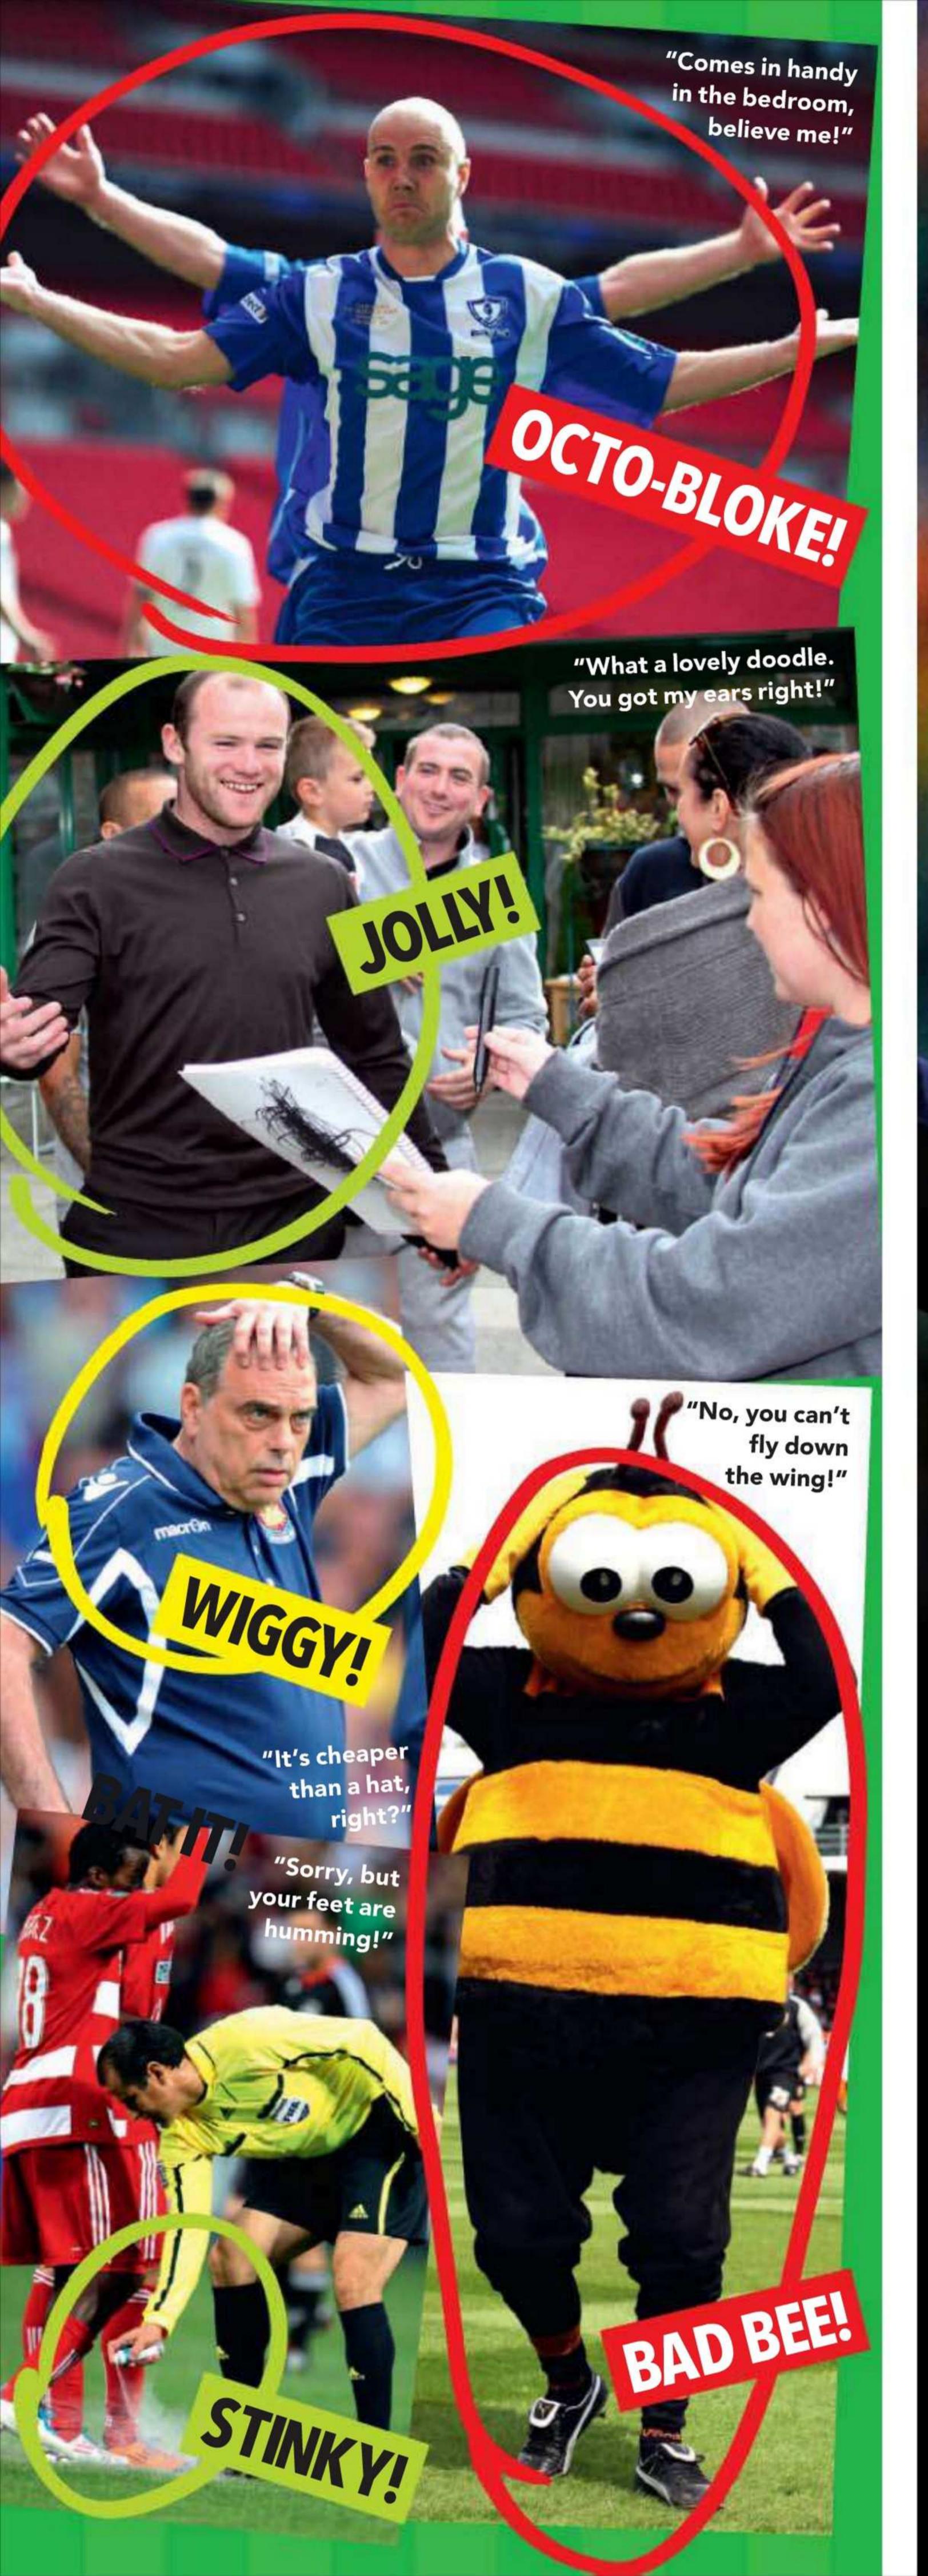

"The car wash is further down the road, Mr Savage"

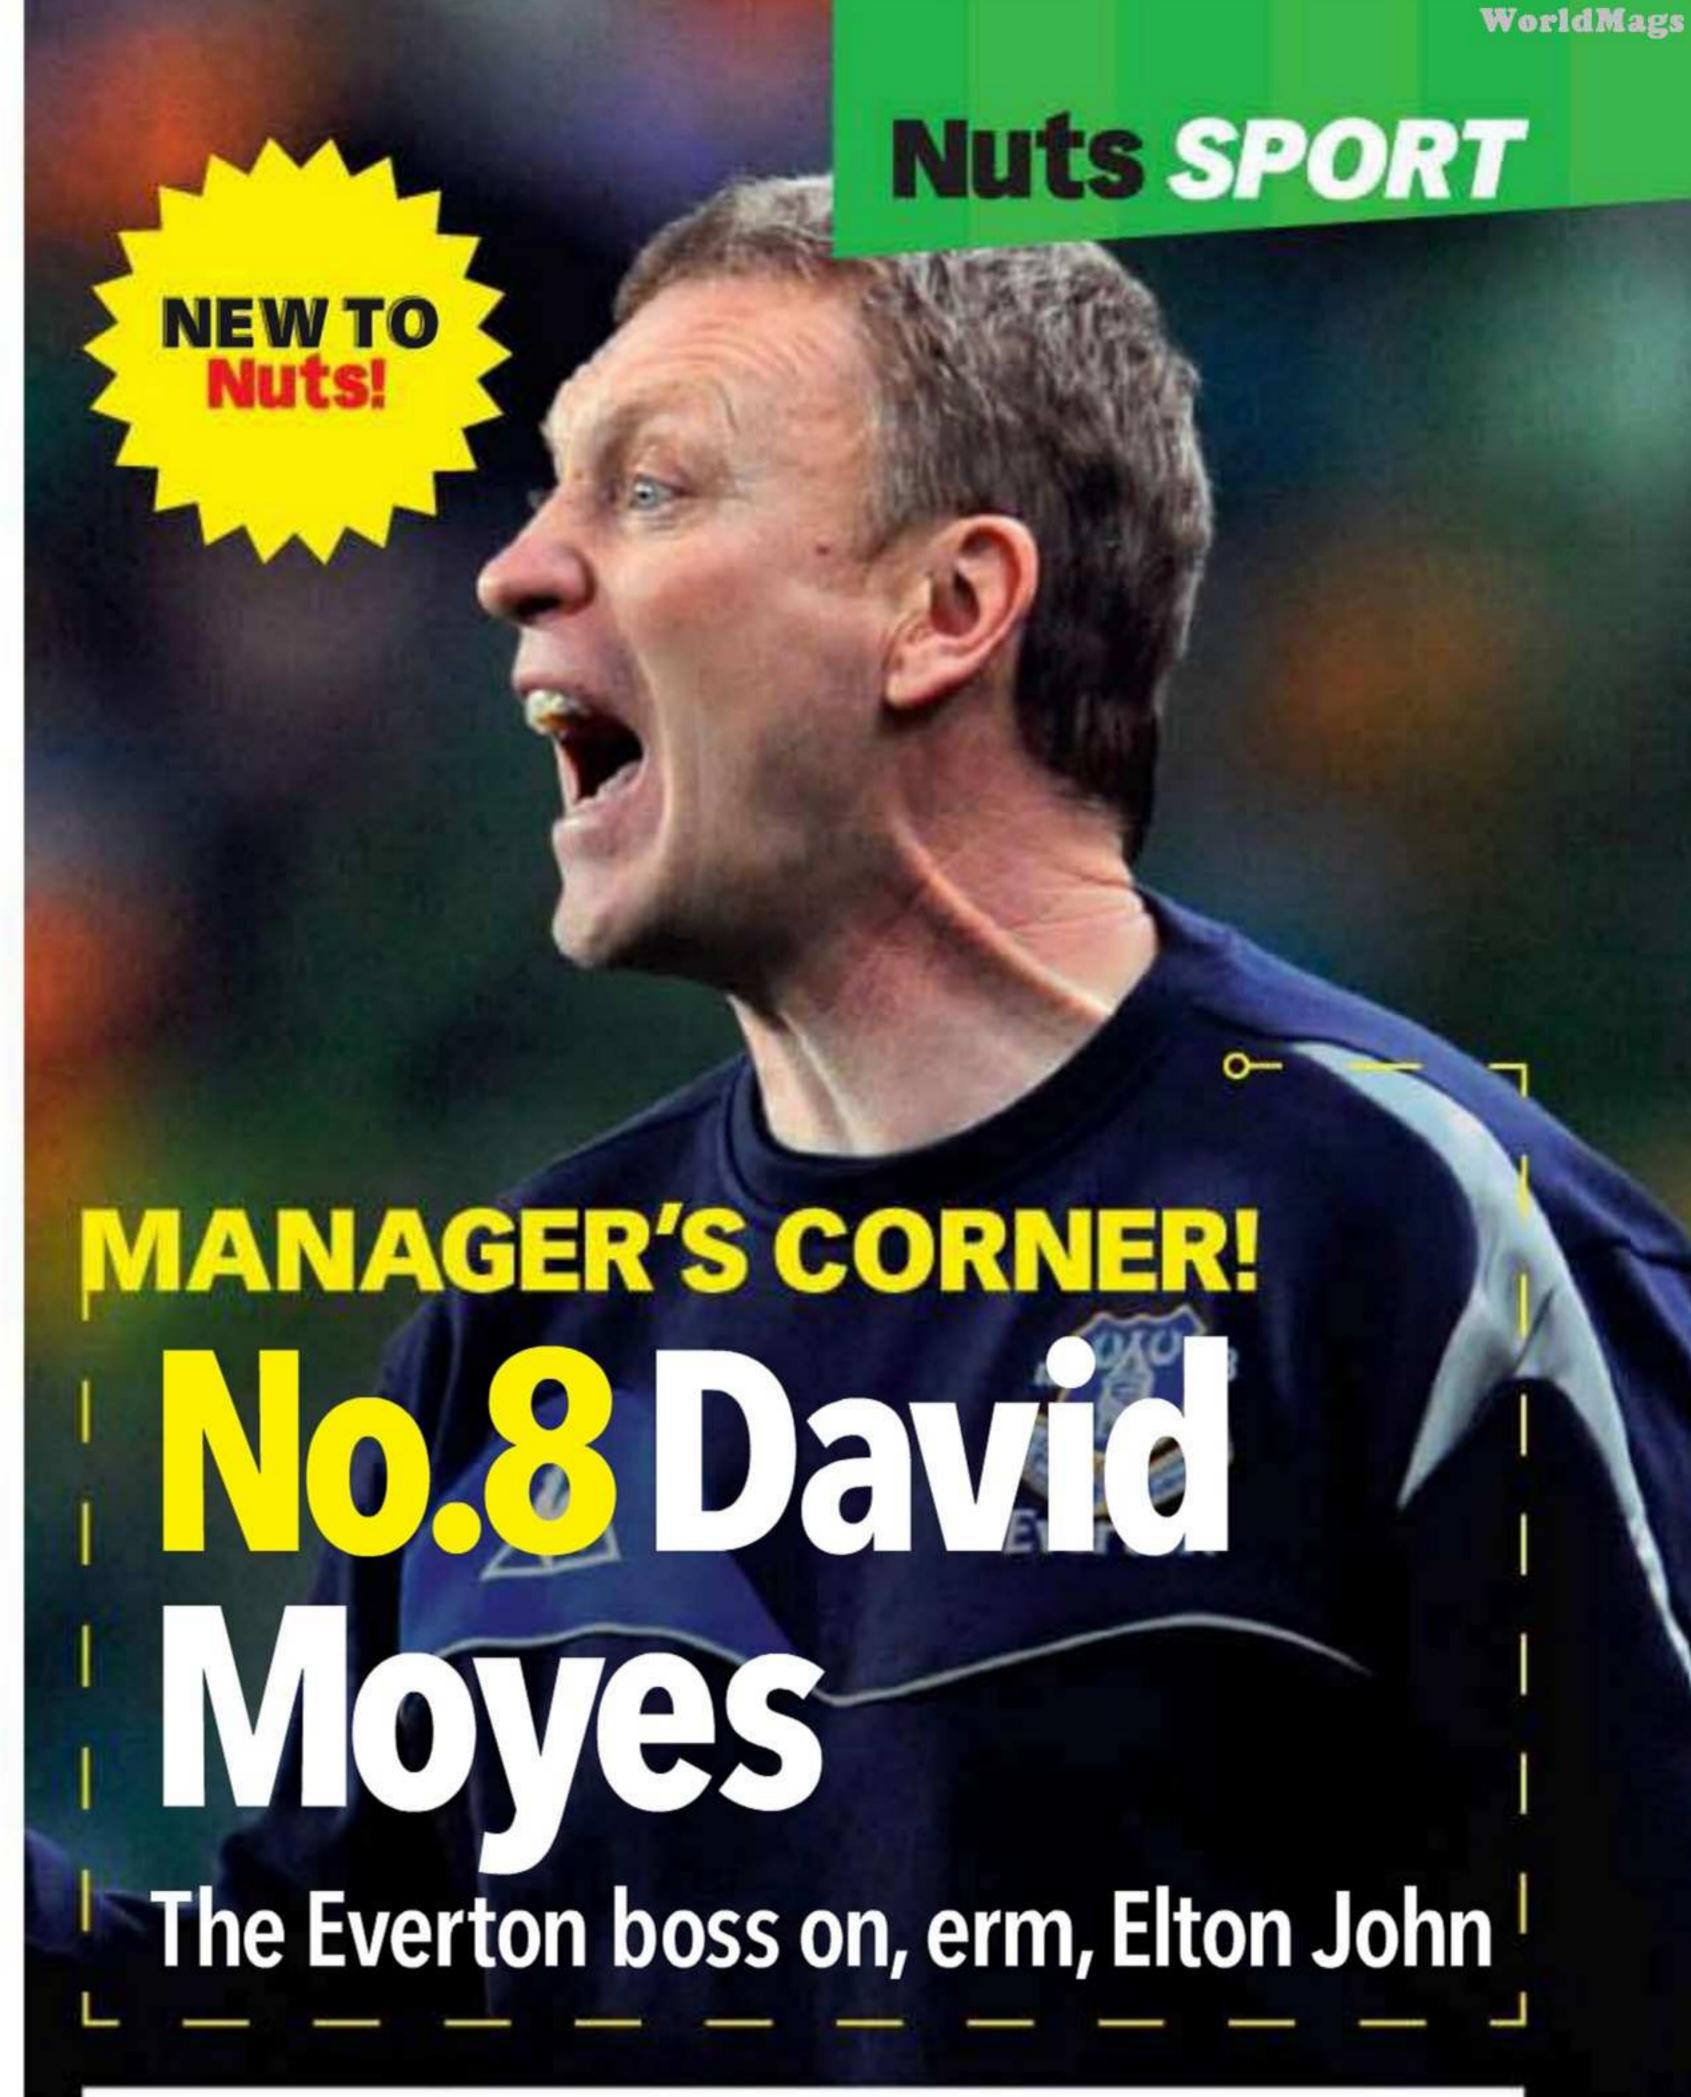

> "...and I'll test drivethe VW next"

> > Nuts 59

i David! If you hadn't become a footballer, what career would you have chosen instead?

I would need to have been in football. I think I would have had to be a community coach or work with kids in a football-related way. I would have liked to have been a PE teacher, but I don't know if I'd have got the right qualifications!

What was your first car?
A sky-blue Volkswagen Golf.
What was the last music you bought? I don't buy much music as my wife buys it. I still would prefer Rod Stewart, Elton John or Billy Joel, even the old stuff!

If somebody wanted to make a film of your life, who would you like to play the part of you? It could be Billy Connolly, but I think if the part needed a bit of class, it would have to be Sean Connery.

You travel a lot for football.
What's the nicest place you've ever visited? I think I'm very fortunate as I get to visit some great places. I really enjoyed Australia, but we have a home in Naples in Florida and I really like it there.

Have you ever been mistaken for anyone else who's famous? Yes – Alex McLeish. What are you laughing at? I'm going to tell Alex!

If you could have a dinner party with three famous people dead or alive, who would you pick and why? I'm going to pick one person who isn't famous, and that would be my mum. My mum died and I would love the thought of the chance to see her again. Another one who died would be Tommy Burns of Celtic. Not that I was Tommy's biggest friend, but he was somebody I really admired and I think he was really special in my early career at Celtic. I would also pick Kylie Minogue as I've always quite fancied her! What would you cook for those guys? I would love to be able to cook but I would be really poor. I'm not sure what I could do... It would probably be out of a packet!

Nuts poker school

This week beating small-stakes Sit & Gos

it & Gos are one of the most popular forms of poker on PKR and the best for building your cash. They're fast-paced, fun, guarantee you'll win every time, but follow these steps and you'll go a long way to increasing your chances of seeing your bankroll grow! Here, Team PKR Pro Scott Shelley tells you how.

WorldMags

In a standard PKR Sit & Go, you'll start with 1,500 chips, and every one of them is important. Early on, it's all about playing tight. Preserve as many chips as you possibly can to help you when the blinds (or bets) get higher. Wait for very big hands and play them aggressively. If you manage to double your chip stack early, great! Just don't needlessly lose chips. Feel free to limp into hands with small pocket pairs, but only if you can get in cheaply.

2. Getting short

Remember, it's all about how many chips you have compared to the blinds. So, if you've got 2,000 chips and the blinds are 100/200, you have ten big blinds. Any time you have around eight to 12 big blinds, if you're going to play a hand, be prepared to go all in! It's hard for people to call, and picking up the blinds will give you a right old boost!

the win

If you're playing a ten-handed game and there are four of you left in it, you're in what's known as "the bubble". Only three of the four players will end up getting paid. You'll notice everyone will tighten up now! If you're chip leader, it pays to raise a lot and steal blinds. If you get down to the final two, you're now "heads-up". You'll be paying blinds every hand now, so play aggressively and raise with any hand that has even one high card in it. You should be moving all-in with any Ace-high, all pairs and other good hands such as Q-J, K-9 and better. Keep doing this and you'll steal enough blinds to give you a great chance of winning the whole thing once your opponent finally calls you!

Sign up to Nuts poker to claim your 100 per cent match bonus up to $800! Visit www.pkr.com/nuts and register today! OVER-185 ONLY. WWW.GAMBLEAWARE.CO.UK

CONFESSION OF THE WEEK!

'I wrapped my lips around him'

The royal wedding was amazing to watch but as we all gathered around my parents' house, I could tell my man was pretty bored. It wasn't surprising, since my folks' neighbours were there and they're all about 80! Quietly, I asked him to follow me upstairs to the bathroom, pulled him in and locked the door. Without talking, I unzipped his bulging shorts and licked his stiffy. Dribbling saliva all over the head, I wrapped my lips around him and bobbed my head up and down as he gasped in pleasure and shot his load over my tongue. Moments later, there was a knock at the door and we heard a little old lady's voice asking to use the loo!

Jenny, Bristol

'All three of us started kissing'

Over the bank holiday weekend, I went over to a neighbour's house as she was having a party with her flatmates. We'd been on a few dates previously and were soon snogging in the kitchen. Her male friend cheekily asked to join in and, fuelled by a few cocktails, we all raced up to her room giggling. All three of us started kissing and taking our clothes off as we pushed him against the wall and both of us gave him a blow-job. We then dived onto the bed and got into the 69 position she licked me while I used my fingers to pleasure her. He stood and watched us for a few minutes but couldn't wait any longer to join in. He took my neighbour first while I quietly watched, then it was my turn. And we all met up again on the following bank holiday Monday!

Amanda, Dartford

'We got saucy on holiday'

My bloke turned 18 when we were in Magaluf, so being a loving and naughty girlfriend, I told him that whenever he wanted, he could do anything he wanted to me. Later that evening, we passed a villa with a "For sale" sign and he stopped and smiled at me. He ordered me to jump the fence, strip and get into the pool. We swam around, touching each other and steadily becoming more and more horny. He then told me to sit on the edge and play with myself so he could watch. A few flicks later, I was oblivious to everything and kept rubbing faster and faster until I was screaming in pleasure. Then I heard some cheers and saw some local Spanish boys waving from the railings. Mortified, I slid straight back under the water, while they raced off!

Jane, Birmingham

'lused soft and hard strokes'

My window cleaner comes to my flat every three weeks and for the past year, we've flirted like mad but have never taken things further. One really hot afternoon a few weeks ago, he'd stripped off to the waist and caught me looking at him from the kitchen window. I gave him a big grin and made a drink sign, inviting him in for a break. As I opened the door in my shorts and vest, he stepped towards me and I pulled him close, getting soapy bubbles all over me. I felt him get instantly hard as he pressed his body against me and he kissed me passionately on the lips. His hand reached up and squeezed my breasts as I opened the front of his wet overalls. I worked my fingers around his hard-on, alternating between soft and hard strokes. It was very sexy and within a few minutes, I heard a groan and got a wet hand. We went on a proper date the following night and have been together ever since!

THE WALKING DEAD

This outstanding zombie saga stars Brit actor, ex-Teachers bloke Andrew Lincoln, as a small-town police officer who, after waking in hospital from a coma, realises that something's wrong - yep, hordes of the undead shuffling around. Cue half-a-dozen episodes of some of the best zombie-bashing TV brilliance we've ever watched. ★★★★★

BLACK SWAN DVD & BLU-RAY CERT 15

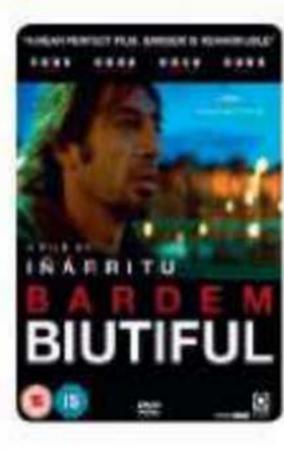

A film about ballet? Yes, but the bloke behind The Wrestler directs the lovely Natalie Portman in this psychological thriller! ★★★★

CAMPUS DVD CERT 15

Cool comedy following the ups but mainly downs of a struggling university with its David Brent-esque boss. ***

BIUTIFUL DVD & BLU-RAY CERT 15

It's all in Spanish, but this drama set in Barcelona starring Javier Bardem from No Country For Old Men is still worth checking out. ★★★

MUSICI

FRIENDLY FIRES

Second album from these indie-dance boys, which has been pumping heavily on the Nuts stereo. That's a seal of quality. ★★★★

THE MONKEES MONKEEMANIA

JULIA'S EYES

A woman thinks she's being targeted by a killer. Or is she just losing it? Spooky stuff from Guillermo del Toro. ***

THE WAY CERT 12 A

Emilio Estevez directs his dad, Martin Sheen, as he goes on a pilgrimage to honour his lost son. Moving, but funny. ***

Jason Statham returns with more no-nonsense action but, this, time he's rampaging through London's mean streets on the trail of a cop killer nicknamed Blitz, played by Aiden Gillen – Mayor Carcetti from The Wire. Paddy Considine from Dead Man's Shoes also stars, and fans of Crank and Transporter will love the proper naughty bust-ups and the one-liners: "If you're gonna pick the wrong fight, at least pick the right weapon!" Believe! ***

Your royal hardness!

WWE Royal Rumble 2011 – a lot tastier than a silly old wedding!

hat's the Royal
event of the year?
If your answer
was "that wedding thing that happened recently", go and stand in the corner. If, you said, "That's easy – it's WWE Royal Rumble 2011!"
then you win a gold star!

WWE Royal Rumble 2011 – the 24th of its kind – features

40 WWE SuperStars in one ring, going toe-to-toe until only one remains and 39 others lie battered by the ringside.

John Cena, Alberto Del Rio,
CM Punk, Randy Orton, Big
Show – in fact, anyone who's anyone in WWE is in there, all looking to crush the next man!

Who'll reign supreme? One way to find out! WWE Royal Rumble 2011 is out on DVD (priced £17.99) and Blu-ray (£24.99) from 9 May, from all good retailers or online at www.silvervision.co.uk.

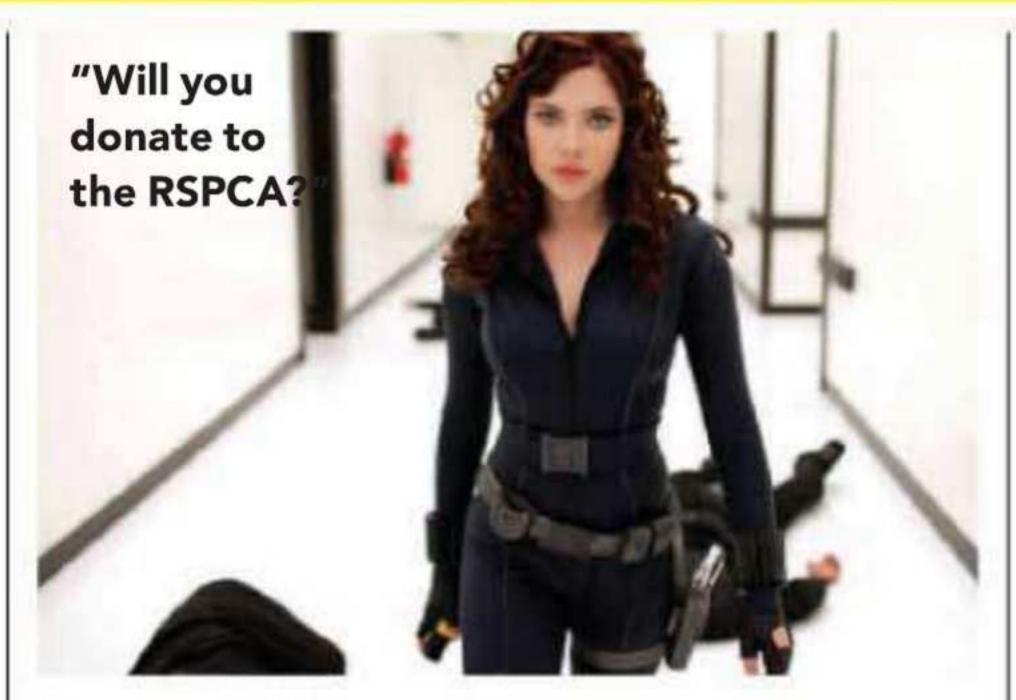

FRIDAY 20 MAY

TODAY'S MUST-SEE TV PICKS!

Fifth Gear channel 5, 7.30pm

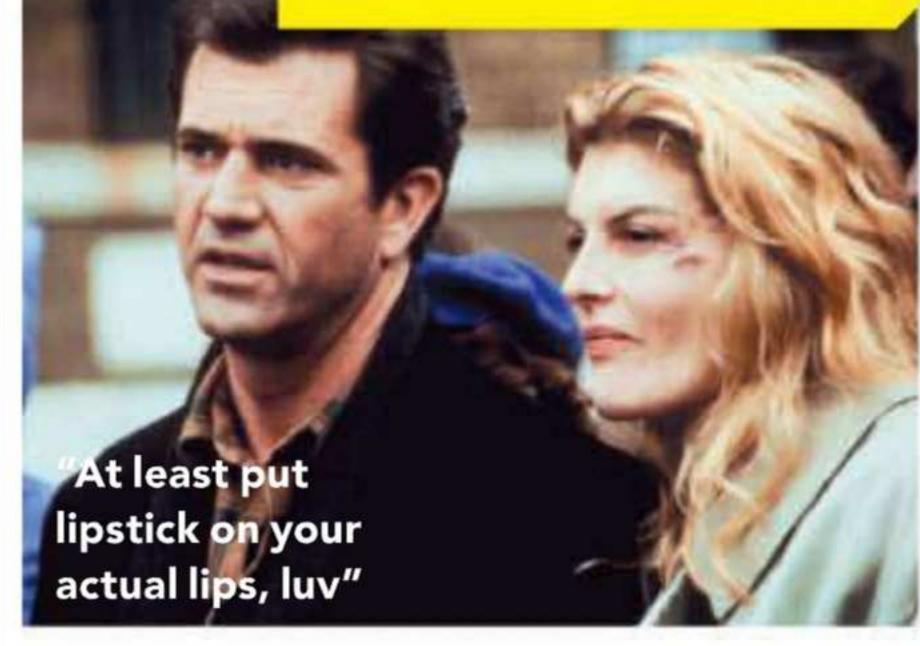

Jason Plato and Jonny Smith celebrate the 50th anniversary of the E-Type Jag, while chef James Martin slices a cucumber bolted to the front of a Porsche Cayman R. As you do. ***

Iron Man 2

Not as good as its predecessor, but still enjoyable. Iron Man/Tony Stark comes up against an angry Russian (Mickey Rourke).

Scarlett Johansson's in it too! ****

Ransom BBC1, 11.30pm

Mel Gibson stars as a rich bloke stung into quite spectacular revenge-style action when his young son is kidnapped by some nasty people. Tense, edge-of-your-seat stuff. ***

Game Of Thrones

DRAMA

Sky Atlantic/HD, 9pm

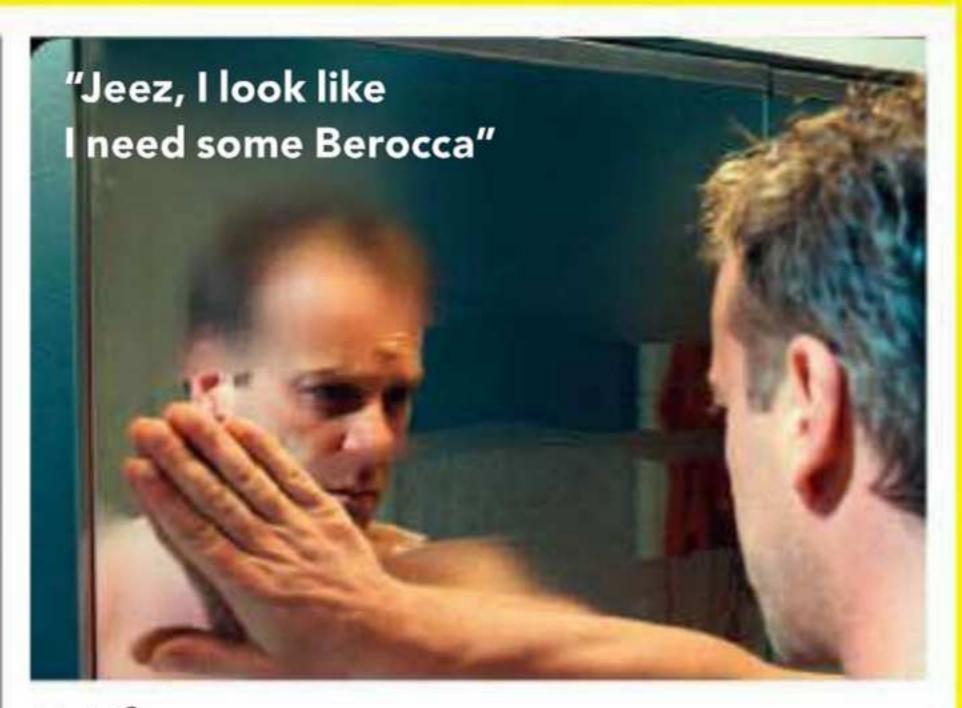

A cracking episode, which sees Tyrion Lannister banged up in a genius prison and Viserys Targaryen finally gets his "reward" for selling his sister. ***

Funny Or Die Presents Mirrors Channel 4, 10pm

COMEDY Sky Atlantic/HD, 10pm With Will Ferrell involved, this new comedy sketch series requires your attention. Featuring crusading space babies, it's mad, random, and – yes – funny. $\star\star\star\star$

Creepy horror starring Kiefer
Sutherland as an ex-cop who's now a night watchman at a burned-out department store, where oddly, all the mirrors survived... ★★★
